About the Order of Guardians of God's Will on Earth

In past years, the Order was under the strict supervision of the state, as were other spiritual communities and religions. Now it may proclaim its doctrine in public. This was celebrated in 1993 in a new assembly hall of the Order.

The Order of Guardians of God's Will on Earth is a new worldwide spiritual community. The mission of the Order is to guard God's will on Earth. The bases of the Order's way are The Seven Pillars:

The Teaching of the Truth, The Commandments of the Order, The Spiritualities of the Order, The Statute of the Order (The Guiding Rules of the Order), The Glares of the Order, The Three Lessons and The Only temple of the Most High.

The Order conducts educational activities and holds divine services and other spiritual ceremonies to praise God and to support the human spirit.

Faith in the Triune God and the desire to serve to Him are the only conditions for membership in the Order. All are welcome without regard for religion, race, nationality, gender or age. The members participate in the Order's activities, take a free part in the Spiritualities and Glares of the Order and enlarge their knowledge of the Pillars of the Order by attending various lectures, informal discussions and the Order's schools and by trying to be an example to others. Life in the Order is both inner and outer life that is imbued with spirit of the Pillars of the Order.

The Order of Guardians of God's Will on Earth was founded in Karlovy Vary (Czech Republic) in 1962 as a new spiritual community with the purpose of awakening, restoring and reinforcing faith in God to people of any religion or denomination. The Order obtains members and leads them to salvation, but only those who are willing to subordinate their lives to their spiritual destiny. The Order's way to salvation is only one possible way. From that follows the tolerant attitude of the Order to other churches and religious communities.

The doctrine of the Order, presented in the Pillars of the Order, gives people of today a clear and complete picture of where they come from, why they live and what happens after death. The Pillars tell people what their relationship should be to God, to the family, to neighbors, to nature and to material possessions. It is a clear and simple instruction about how life should be led, how to arrive safely at life's destination, and for soul's salvation.

The Order appeals to its members and to all people of good will to devote themselves to the struggle of good against evil and to promote benevolence and love among all people.
